November Newsletter

It is mid-November and there is no snow, yet. We have had a beautiful fall this year, but the long-range forecast is predicting the arrival of snow. Please continue to label your children's outwear. We have amassed far too many jackets and sweatshirts this year that will be on display at family conference time. After conferences, all lost and found items will be donated to a charity.

Beginning today, please use Parent Connect to book an interview with your children's teachers during the evening of Thursday, November 26th or during the school day on Friday, November 27th. Report cards will be available on Parent Connect during the late afternoon of Monday, November 23rd.

Family meetings with teachers during report card times are a time of celebration. Parents get a chance to visit their child's home away from home. Children spend a quarter of each weekday at school, and this is a time for parents to see their children's work, hear about their learning and learn more about their class.

The school will be creating Holiday Hampers for families in our community. Beginning Wednesday and for the next two weeks, we will be collecting a variety of items. If you can contribute on any of these dates, please do. We also understand how difficult things are for many families, and we understand if people are unable to contribute at this time. Each time a student contributes an item, they will receive a ballot to go into a draw for one class in the school to have a pizza party.

If you ever need to pick up your child early, can you please make that request at least 30 minutes before the end of the day. The office gets extremely busy at dismissal time and finding a child in the school when the clock is ticking down is becoming challenging. Thank you for your understanding.

Families should remember that school ends at 3:00. For the safety of all our students, we do not want adults wandering the halls of our building. We have seen too many adults (parents, uncles, aunts, siblings, workers) standing in hallways as children are completing their school day. Please wait outside the school building for your children.

We look forward to seeing all families next week!
