Dear Families,

October 19th, 2026

Seven Oaks School Division is continuing to strengthen how we plan for, support, assess, and report on the learning of students who require student-specific supports.

Over the coming year, schools will be working toward greater consistency in Student-Specific Planning across the division. This includes clearer processes for identifying a student's strengths, needs, supports, goals, and programming, and for connecting those plans to assessment and reporting.

As these processes are introduced and refined, we appreciate your patience and continued partnership with school teams. Some plans may be reviewed, updated, or clarified as teams work together to ensure that programming reflects each student's current learning needs.

Our goal is to continue strengthening consistency and clarity in reporting so that it clearly reflects what a student is currently demonstrating in relation to the curriculum or programming they are working toward. A student-specific plan identifies the supports and goals a student needs; the report card communicates demonstrated achievement.

For some students, this may mean seeing lower performance indicators than previously on report cards, while the school continues to provide tiered supports, adaptations, intervention, and opportunities for growth. Where programming is modified or individualized, reporting will reflect the outcomes identified for that student. School teams will work to ensure families understand what is being reported, the progress being made, and the next steps for learning.

We recognize that changes in planning and reporting can raise questions. Schools and Student Services will continue to work alongside families throughout this process. Our goal is greater clarity and consistency so that programming, planning, assessment, and reporting work together to support each student.

Thank you for your patience, partnership, and continued involvement in your child's learning.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Hughes
