By providing students with opportunities to learn about treaties, residential schools , and Indigenous world views ,we are building shared understanding and moving towards reconciliation.

Indigenous Education

We strive to create an inclusive culture which allows our children to see each other in relation to community and creation, to find and develop their gifts, passions and purpose for self and community.

Education for Sustainable Development

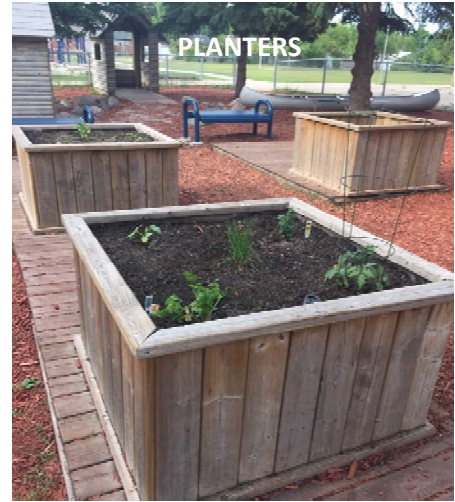

UNITE TO CHANGE

Learning about living sustainably and responsibly

Incorporating themes of human rights, environmental sustainability, climate change, and equity into curriculum, we bring awareness so that children can become responsible decision makers.

Education for Sustainable Development

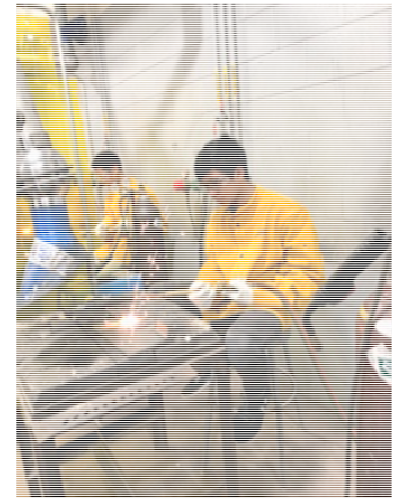

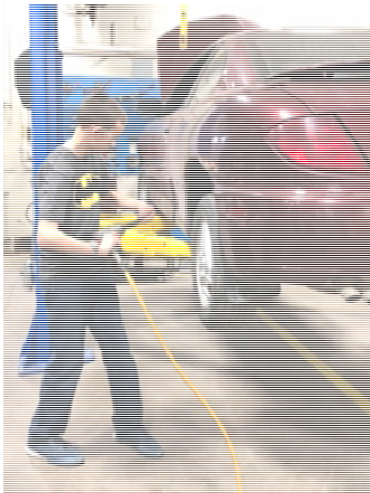

We encourage our children to walk, bike or roll to school. This will not only help our children be healthier and ready to learn but it will also play an important role in improving our quality of life.

Learning opportunities around sustainability allow our children to reflect and act responsibly toward self, others and the environment so as to live sustainably.

Student Health: Body, Mind and Spirit

At O. V. Jewitt we strive to focus on Integrative Wellbeing, cultivating student skills and practices to support development of mind, body, heart, and spirit.

Student Health: Body, Mind and Spirit

We help students recognize, understand and grow through their experiences, in a holistic manner. Focusing on academics, physical health, social well being, emotional well being as well as promoting mindfulness, self-compassion and gratitude are all important aspects of supporting whole child.

CAREER TREK

At O. V. Jewitt we plan and structure engaging learning opportunities where students are encouraged to collaborate, think critically and express themselves in multiple modalities to make sense of the world around them. Literacy and numeracy are interwoven throughout the curriculum. We attempt to create spaces for teachers to reflect on their classroom practice.
